

John R Moskonas

John Moskonas was born in Manhattan, grew up in Washington Heights, NY and went to high school in Fort Lee, NJ. A graduate of Rutgers University, John has been a parishioner at Saint Andrew Greek Orthodox Church for 25 years where he and his wife Maria have raised their three children Spiro, Stamatina and Georgios. John has been an active member of the Religious Education program and has taught Sunday School for the High School class for the last 15 years. He is a current member of the Parish Council where he has taken on the Christian Education Ministry and Communication roles and is active in managing the church bookstore. John has owned an executive search firm for the last 21 years.

